Under One Condition

Winger

She's looking in the eye
Of a mind made up
That the pain will last foreverAnd he's headed for a heart
All closed up, will you ever open up?
She said, "Never"What is the secret

To keeping your head and your promises?Oh, "I'll mend your broken heart", she said Under one condition

If I lift you up, you'll never let me down
Darling under one conditionShe stares at the sky, wondering why the night
Isn't telling her, believe in him

If he could only read to her the pages of his heart
She could see they feel the sameLearning the secret
To keeping their heads and their promisesOh, "I'll mend your broken heart", he said
Under one condition

If I let you in, you'll never push me out Darling under one condition

And this is my one, this is my one conditionHe's getting closer and she's getting closer Just one more question, one more answer

It was all they ever wantedOh, "I'll mend your broken heart", she said Under one condition

If I lift you up, you'll never let me down

Darling under one conditionHear me say, this is my one condition

That if I let you in, you'll never push me out

Darling under one, darling under one condition

I'll mend your broken heart, but darling under one condition

If I lift you up, you'll never, don't let me down
