Perfectly Imperfect

AJ Edwards

There's a shade of gray when you say
There's no light in my eyes
Your words I swear I misheard
I forget, though I try.

Cause we're perfectly imperfect in my mind
You know I'm on your side
Perfectly imperfect in my mind

Tonight I'm running on whim
Determined to recreate my love
I'll spend my time all at once
And leave the rest up to fate

Cause we're perfectly imperfect in my mind
You know I'm on your side
Perfectly imperfect in my mind

And I know we have our fights
Heaven knows we can go all night
But love is better frayed
And I wouldn't change a thing in you

I need you more than you know
To come and take over me
Cause I'm trying to catch my breath
And now you're all that I breathe, my love.
