Let Her Go

Mark Collie

When her high heels hit the floor
Let her go
When she sa-shays out the door
Let her goThere's an unspoken rule
Every man should know
You can't hold her
If you can't let her goIf she needs time on her own
Let her go
Though it means you'll be alone
Let her goAsk anyone who's tried
They'll say it's so
You can't hold her
If you can't let her goIf you can't let her go
How is she ever gonna know
Just how much she needs you
Just how much she means to youIf you can't be that strong
You're never gonna hold her for very longWhen you see her with somebody new
Let her go
Passing right in front of you
Let her goEven if it breaks your heart
Don't let it show
'Cause you can't hold her
If you can't let her goAnd if you can't hold her
Let her go
