Unwelcome

The Plot in You

Who do you think you are?
You're nothing to me.There's nothing left to see,
I put my hands behind my back, waiting for a hand to strike me
"I'll tear the skin from your face,
I'll feel your bones crack,
You'll never know what it's like to be an old man"
Pray for yourself, pray for forgiveness
This is your last chance, what will you do with it?
I'm not the boy you used to know
You know I'll kill you right now, right in front of her.You think you know everything but you don't know anything.
You think you know everything, you don't know a thing about me.There's nothing stopping me,
I'll wipe the blood from my mouth, hoping you look back at me
I said this once before, I'll say it one more time,
Watch yourself I am not afraid,
Everything you love is gone (Everything)
There's no turning back
You know I'll never look back at you,
Step up and be a man, cause everything you love is gone (Everything)You think you know everything but you don't know anything.
You think you know everything you don't know a thing about me.Everything you love, everything you love is gone.
Everything you love, everything you love is gone.
Everything you love is gone.
