Samsara

Monuments

Please would you tell me my friend Which direction is the way Because I'm lost, I'm confused The reality we choose Is a long, long way from the dream

All you'll feel is pain and suffering Wading through samsara

Yes but I've heard that before From those teachers of dreams But it's old and it's cold I just can't feel it in my soul Am I damned to a life of extremes

All you'll feel is pain and suffering Wading through samsara

> But I've looked to the east And I've prayed in the west What I know, I've seen You just couldn't imagine

Where I've been And I feel at this time I just need to rest And I'd like us to stay here I would love us to stay here Would you let me stay here, please...
