

(Where Do You) Draw the Line

Ted Nugent

I've been accused of jealousy
Well you've been running around
To think that I trusted you
And you've let me down
Noooo You always liked the spotlight
Now you're the talk of the town
If trouble's what you're looking for
Well its what you've found So where will you be tonight
It's time that you realized babe
I'm no fool so where do you draw the line
I really want to know So much it takes to please you
I just keep getting burned
If this is how you treat your friends
You've got a lot to learn You were never one for promises
You think there made to break
I've heard of being pushed around
But this takes the cake So where will you be tonight
It's time that you realized babe
I'm no fool so where do you draw the line
I really got to know Where cuz I really have to know
Where do you draw the line Do you know the question
I need to be free
But when you've got answer baby
Come and see me If you need me I really gotta know
Where do you draw the line
Ahh I've really gotta know
Where do you draw the line Where do you draw the line
Where do you draw the line
Where do you
Where do you draw the line
Where do you draw the line
Where do you
Where do you draw the line
Where do you draw the line
Where do you
Where do you draw the line
Where do you draw the line
Where do you

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>