Landline (feat. Ingrid Michaelson)

Greg Laswell

I think the tree may fall in the front yard if this storm has it's way I hear you dancing on the floorboards above unaware of what's at stake
All I ever needed was a landline just in case the power lines go down
All I needed would never be enough for me

I think the storm may take the screen door if the wind gets it's way I hear you singing on the floor just below
unaware of what's at stake
All I ever needed was a landline
just in case the power lines go down
All I needed would never be enough for me

All I ever needed was a landline
just in case the power lines go down
All I needed would never be enough for me
All I ever needed was a landline
just in case the power lines go down
All I needed would never be enough for me

All I needed would never be enough for me
All I needed would never be enough for me
All I needed would...
All I needed would never be enough for me
All I needed would never be enough for me
