

It's Getting OK Now

311

There will come a time
When I no longer am
I will take my last breath
And on that day, I'll be dyin' At that time will I feel at ease?
Will I dream and be at peace?
These are things that no one knows
Come on help me now Why must I think of this until I find?
Peace and quiet in the clouding of my mind
There are times when I never come around
I can tell things are getting ok now What if there is no ending
And we turn from where we've been
To a place where all we can see
Is light pouring in Am I really all that far?
Far removed from that ending part
Or just a little closer to
The galaxy's misty heart Why must I think of this until I find?
Peace and quiet in the clouding of my mind
There are times when I never come around
I can tell things are getting ok now Why must I think of this until I find?
Peace and quiet in the clouding of my mind
There are times when I never come around
I can tell things are getting ok now
