

Dark Skies

Brick + Mortar

(I was born, I was born, I was born to lose)

(I was born, I was born, I was born to...)

Dark skies, deeper than the darkest kind

Take a little look inside

Redder than the reddest types

I can smell a wet rain

Smaller than the smallest kind

I begin to head myself

Acting like I feel just fine

Feeling got me feeling

Feeling got me feeling

I... I can tell

I was born...

I was born to lose

I can tell

I was born...

I was born to...

No more crying

How we let it go this far

Looking what they do outside

Everytime you close your eyes

Maybe you should go and fail

And difference of a different kind

Or you could always close your eyes

Acting like you feel just fine

Feeling got me feeling

Feeling got me feeling

Feeling got me feeling

Feeling got me feeling like I'm singing again

I... I can tell

I was born...

I was born to lose

I can tell

I was born...

I was born to...

I'm born to lose

I'm born to...

I'm born to lose

I have to

Now I'm thinking in the bed, in the freedom
I got a head stuck still
Tripping over my beating
I'm on the park way quicker than I've been in the evening
'cause I was born to lose
I'm born to lose
I'm born to lose
I'm born to...
I'm born to lose
I have to
Dark skies, deeper than the darkest kind
Take a little look inside
Dark skies, boys try to pull me down
I can only shine so bright
Brighter at the darkest times.
