

Suits N' Alcohol

Monkey Trick

(He's got to do it again)Another 6:30 wake up call, another lost day in a tie
Can a morning shower wash him off if he is always dry?
Suit, suitcase, cubicle.Wanted: A job that gives him a goal
Placing a classified ad for a life with a soulAnother commute in the car, another 50 miles to go
Time to himself is fleeting, time to get lost in the radio
Inching closer to the office, wages undertow
Suit, suitcase, cubicleWanted: A job that gives him a goal
Placing a classified ad for a life with a soulDreaming of Dreams, woken long ago Dreaming of a life, left when he was young (left when he was young)Can another happy hour quench a thirst that's always dry?
Suit, suitcase, alcohol(Just one more) (Just one more... drink)Wasted: with another drink to go
Chasing his drinks with more alcoholDreaming of Dreams, woken long ago Dreaming of a life, left when he was young (left he was young)(Just one more drink) (Just one more...) (Just one more day) (Just one more)Wasted: with another drink to go Chasing the drinks with more alcohol
Closing the tab and heading home
Laying down as he resets the alarmDreaming of Dreams, woken long ago Dreaming of life, left when he was young ...left when he was young.
Drinking to life, numbed long ago.....So...
Here's to you.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>