Raining In California

Human Nature

The day that I met you, the angels were crying down
Once in a lifetime, the moment I prayed for
I never thought would come
How can I let you go, now that I love you so
Let the tears fall like rain in California
Why, give me a reason why
Tell me where I went wrong
I'm watching the hours crawl by
I'm learning to be alone
Now that you've gone away
So many words to say
(I still feel so much inside)
But this time I know why
Let it rain, let it rain
Forever and a day
Till I see you again
Let it rain
I'm feelin' my heart grow cold
Now I'm without you
All of the dreams I hold
Are only about you
So what if our stars are crossed
Who hasn't loved and lost
(But I'm not the first to cry)
But this time I know why
Let it rain, let it rain
Forever and a day
Till I see you again
Let it rain
