Pleased To Meet You

Alexz Johnson

Scared to be alone
Frightened of the dark
Everything is too much
For a boy out of touch with his feelingsI must be to blame
I must be at fault
I believe I'm never good enough
To shine a light that lingersI have witnessed star
Bursts in your coal black eyes
I am what I try to deny
I have seen the serpent coiling set to strike
And love is the usual disguisePleased to meet you
Where you from and what's your name?Never came alive
Never cut the cord
Nothing is too much
For a boy out of touch with his feelingsWorshiping the moonshine
Skinning up the grapevine
I don't have a plan where I'm going
I just follow my fingersI will be the burning man
To grace these times
I am what I try to deny
I reflect the same eyes looking back at me
And love is the only replyPleased to meet you
Where you from and what's your name?We're more than enough
Dead ringersPleased to meet you
Where you from and what's your name?
Pleased to meet you
Where you from and what's your name?Pleased to meet you
Where you from and what's your name?
Pleased to meet you
Where you from and what's your name?Pleased to meet you
Where you from and what's your name?
Pleased to meet you
Where you from and what's your name?What's your name?
Pleased to meet you
Where you from, what's your name?
What's your name?
Pleased to meet you
Where you from, what's your name?

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/