

More Than a Word

Asher Lane

More than a word

I've never ment to question everything I feel but now you seem so distant you say those words to me

Feels like the world around me slowly falling out of place and I don't know where I can turn to waiting for the day

(Chorus)

When love is more than a word
When love is just crazy and observed

Just gotta be an answer Something to hold on A little more than voiding a fear of being lone

Are you coming with me?
Will we fade away?
Have you given up,
leaving there is a day

(Chorus)

When love is more than a word
When love is just crazy and observed

Will you trust in the way you feel
and don't keep it all inside?
Find yourself at a point where you start to open your eyes, open your eyes

Can you dare a look at me, give me a honest answer Yes, It's easy to walk away You're already gone

Have you come for the same desire?
Have you stop to surrender?

Will you trust in the way you feel
and don't keep it all inside?
Find yourself at a point where you start
to open your eyes, open your eyes

start to open your eyes, open your eyes
