Almost Lost

Kylesa

I had fun, but now, I can't come down again,
To learn, you turn, hating our closed environment
And so I almost let you go (Am I alone again?)
For so long, I'm almost lost in you (Another end again)
I pretend, I don't fear, your footsteps fade away,
The sound, break down, stop me crying, white line of love and hate

Counting the seasons, I'm thinking of reasons,
Touching her face and soaking her grace in Talking in whispers, ignoring my listeners
Un-plug me from your wall
I almost let you go
Still not a part of it
I'm almost lost here...
