Tomorrow

Ozzy Osbourne

Have you read the message the writing on the wall?
Could it be the answer, the answer to it all?
What's going down in heaven? I'm playing with your head
Don't believe them when they tell you, you'd be better off dead
Living in the thunder, driving me insane
Can I get a witness to take away the pain?
Walking on the water going nowhere fast
Feeling like I'm walking with no shoes on broken glass
You know it
You don't have to leave the lights on
I'm so used to being blind
No more goodbyes or yesterday's, so it's
I'll see you tomorrow
I'll see you tomorrow
Welcome to the sideshow, I'll cut it to the chase
Yeah, I can hear you thinking it's going all to waste
I don't mean to offend you when I look you in the eyes
What's all this commotion? It leaves me mystified
Chasing all the rainbows, falling from the sky
I know your intentions are all a bunch of lies
I'm running out of patience, falling off track
You better start to worry 'cause I may not make it back

Alright, now
You don't have to leave the the lights on
I'm so used to being blind
One good reason to blow me away, so it's
I'll see you tomorrow
I'll see you tomorrow
Can wait till tomorrow?
'Cos tomorrow never comes
I never killed anybody
It was a gun
Living in the big house, dying by the rail
If I wanted your opinion I'd call you up in hell
Could that be the mailman knocking on the door?
Or just another lightweight finally evening the score
You know it
You don't have to leave the the lights on

Now I'm so used to being blind
No more goodbyes or yesterday's, so it's
I'll see you tomorrow
No more reasons to blow you away, so it's
I'll see you tomorrow
