Missed

upStructure

He should not be here, he's just too big
In a cloud please come down
I'd put stars at your feet
Put Mars at your headShow yourself to me and I'd believe
I'd moan and I'd weep
Fall silent at your speak
I'd burst in full to the brimMary lost her head and let it bleed
Came crying back to me
My son, where's he been?
Don't deny it and don't you hide himNo I've missed him
No I've missed him
No I've missed him
No I've missed himNo words, no sign, Mary say, "I'm not lying"
How come he's so big?
But good Lord he's been hid
Good Lord where're you hidNo I've missed him
No I've missed him
No I've missed him
