

Goosebumps

Mr. Bungle

Drowning in your eyes, the brown pools overflow
Immobilize and hypnotize, gimme the chills from below
I'm talkin' to myself, thinking that you are here
I turn around, into the black your shadow disappears
Blood freezes in my veins with your frigid touch
My vital signs are vanished by your gravity into mush
You're so beautiful you scare me to death
My hair stands on end with the warmth of your breath
If I look at myself in the mirror I see a part of you
Unfolding mystery
Your magnetism pulls me closer and out of the blue
You give me the goosebumps
You send shivers up and down my spine
You give me the goosebumps
You make me quiver and stumble my mind
You give me the goosebumps
My knees weaken when I look in your eyes
You give me the goosebumps
For my love I can find no disguise
Beneath the light of the moon I soothe your neck with a kiss
I feel the sting of your blood trickle onto my lips
You're so delicious I taste your poison juice on my tongue
Infinity is killing me and you where we belong
Passion's grip around your throat, strangling in a cartoon
You ooze between my fingers gasping for your last daily wound
I watch you suffocate my pulse accelerates to a blur
A tear falls from my eyes love chokes in a slur
If I look at myself in the mirror I see a part of you
Unfolding mystery
Your magnetism pulls me closer and closer...
You give me the goosebumps
You send shivers up and down my spine
You give me the goosebumps
You make me quiver and stumble my mind
You give me the goosebumps
My knees weaken when I look in your eyes
You give me the goosebumps
For my love I can find no disguise
