

Every Second Counts

Reno Divorce

I try not to watch the clock
Cos its running on borrowed time
And the way you make my heart stop
When you tell me that you're only mine
Try to hold the minutes in my hand
Don't let em slip away
Girl there ain't enough hours in the dayCos every second counts
Every stolen smile
Every fleeting touch
Makes it worth my while
And I'm willing to pay
No matter what the amount
Cos when it comes to you (when it comes to you)
Every second counts
When it comes to you
Every second countsEven tho its been years
Every days as fresh as yesterday
And through all the smiles and tears
Baby, right here is where i wanna stay
Hard times come and go
And no one knows what tomorrow brings
But i'm sticking with you till the bell ringsCos every seconds counts
Every stolen smile
Every fleeting touch
Makes it worth my while
And I'm willing to pay, yeah
No matter what the amount
Cos when it comes to you
Every second counts
When it comes to you
Every second counts
