When Lovers Confess

Howard Jones

In this boat, out on the sea, I can't see land
Hiding out and biding, it's time, yet it's all around
Shimmering sun for day, jealous moon will prey
On the mind of an unfulfilled soulLife seems a moment away
Challenging and beckoning
Needing this freedom today
On the night when lovers confessChilling winds will blow through this heart
And won't let me rest, matchwood bridges
Are doin' their best to keep us apart
Love that was meant to be, love that was sent to me
In the land of troubles and peaceLife seems a moment away
Challenging and beckoning
Loving this freedom today
On the night when lovers confessLife seems a moment away
Challenging and beckoning
Loving this freedom today
On the night when lovers confess
When lovers confess their love

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/