Seconds Away

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

talk in circles spewing lies, disinformation but we see right fucking through who could believe in your false agendas anyway i refuse to sit by watch you destroy us, destroy everything i love empty words won't hold you up this time feels like seconds away, from a fate beyond control like seconds away, falling fast out of control after the dust fades,
following the end game what we'll have left is sand
through our hands
this constant devotion to capitalist notions will be our demise listen to me i've had enough, i can't take it anymore try and find some piece of mind anywhere, why can't we strike at the source feels like seconds away, from a fate beyond control
after the dust fades,
this constant devotion to capitalist notions will be our demise
our demise
