Failing

Roses Are Red

I feel this pressure weighing down, weighing down on me
I can't complete a thought, it's hard to breathe, it keeps me awake
I'm walking fearfully through every day, through every place
But I, I just cannot turn awayFailing in conversation, but I wanted you to show me
I wanted just to know me like you do
Failing in conversation, but I'm never giving in
Can you take away this pain I'm living in?I feel this silence raining down, raining down on me
All my weaknesses for you to see, I've lost track of days
Right back where I started from, face to face with what I've become
But I just cannot turn awayFailing in conversation, but I wanted you to show me
I wanted just to know me like you do
Failing in conversation, but I'm never giving in
Can you take away this pain I'm living in?Failing in conversation, but I wanted you to show me
I wanted just to know me like you do
Failing in conversation, but I'm never giving in
Can you take away this pain I'm living in?
