Vainglory

Susperia

My time is near I will rule again
So what is your defense this time
You will try to defeat me once again
But your precious words will ricochet off of meYou're going blind as I lurk around you
Your mighty being will fall down hard
Take a closer look at your built up horde
You will see they are following meWhen my time again comes
Order and darkness shall reign
Without the smoke of your holy pipe
We will again create clarity as a whole
Damn you for thinking your so supreme
I will end your vainglorynessStep down from your throne it's no longer yours
Give me your crown, it's rightfully mine
Take with you your poor possetions
For what I care burn them aliveAnd again I have to listen to your prayers
Take your supremacy anywhere but here
I see some time to rebuild what you have destroyed
So, do your wheaping elsewhere, not hereI will never forgive you my brother
For letting me rot in your pits of doom
This time it's final my friend
Our bloodline ends now right here
