Come On

Holly Miranda

I'm not afraid of this habit taking over me
Won't run away if the emptiness is chasing me
I've been waiting so long for you to ruin meI'm not scared of this desire (not scared, not scared)
I'll be the fool caught in your fire (I'll be the fool)
I've been waiting for blue moon to cover me
There's something inside all this darkness
Please discover meYou can bathe this wild inside of me
Or make this bed for mother misery?
I've been waiting for blue moon to cover me
Maybe this time I will run
And maybe this time I will run
I know this time could be the death of me
There's no way out, we're in too deep
There's no use fighting
So just stop trying
I know this flood could be the best of it
But if there's more give up the rest of it
There's no use trying
So just stop fightingI don't rely on the radio
The voice that started haunting me
I tried to sing along and to turn it off
I couldn't breathe
I've been waiting for blue moon to cover meYou can't take this ride without me
Wonder what it is you feel about me?
I've been waiting for blue moon to cover me
Got me through this lonesome night [?]
I know this time could be the death of me
There's no way out, we're in too deep
There's no use fighting
So just stop trying
I know this flood could be the best of it
But if there's more give up the rest of it
There's no use trying
So just stop fightingI know this time could be the death of me
There's no way out, we're in too deep
There's no use fighting
So just stop trying
I know this flood could be the best of it
But if there's more give up the rest of it

There's no use trying
So just stop fightingI know this time could be the death of me
There's no way out, we're in too deep
There's no use fighting
So just stop trying
I know this flood could be the best of it
But if there's more give up the rest of it
There's no use trying
So just stop fighting
