This Time

Cara Dillon

When all is said and done
You're still a lucky one
And I've lost out again this time
You said that we were strong
Said that we'd go on and on
Do you see that you were wrong this time?
Now I want to tell youChorus:
If you wanted to break me
If you wanted to see me falling
I'll make it easy for you
No, you won't have to try
Really think you should know that Come the morning light
There'll be no-one left to fightYou say I'm not to blame
Things don't often go your way
Well maybe you were wrong this time
Cos from where I'm standing now
It doesn't matter any how
We've lost too many friends this time
Now I need to tell youChorusWhen darkness follows you home at night
And all the voices drown you out
This world is turning us inside out
Do you believe it is worth the fightChorus

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/