

Reality

Dying to Know

verse1

tonight, i'll cry myself to sleep. talking to myself, wishing for good dreams. when you see yourself, never look my way, i wish you'd notice me, someday i'll be your saint. lifeless, dreams, hopeless, families.. all these tears i've shed, i've walked this world alone take away this pain you cant believe in me opened minds again come free me from my sin, reality's amends finding ways around.
love can wait...

verse2

in this broken home, i try and laugh alone, mistakes you've meant to take lost and thrown away, opened minds again, come free me from my sin, reality's amends finding ways around

chorus1

catch me as i fall. catch me as i fall into this hole we've made, kick me as i crawl, inside your lonely grave catch me as i fall into this hole we've made, attention's all i've wanted, your time your love cant wait, your love cant wait...

bass breakdown

REPRESS, shattered lives and my dreams fall into place look at me as i learn to fly away, bittersweet childhood loneliness, an only child learning to make amends, i cant believe in anything but fear, im all alone memories unclear. locked inside this hole you threw away, and everything i wish that i could say, but some things are better left unsaid, in my mind, reality's my friend, all this time you should have known, never there you left me ALL ALONE...

chorus2

catch me as i fall. catch me as i fall into this hole we've made, kick me as i crawl, inside your lonely grave
catch me as i fall into this hole we've made, attention's all i've wanted, your time your love cant wait,
