Breaking Through

The Wreckage

I am a blind man trying to find the way a deaf man with my ear to the ground just listening for what You say

I've got no voice to sing the songs
Written by the prophets on the subway walls the kingdom is a golden table and we are beggars all

Are these just some words that I say aloud?
Is this just the sun breaking through the clouds?
Oh, I know it's more and I know somehow that Heaven is breaking thorugh
And it's You, It's you, It's you, It's you, you

I've wandered deserts looking for a sign
A wild flower in a valley low
Just reaching fro the light

I have no place to lay m head, no sanctuary of my own the kingdom waits with open arms for pilgrims headed home

Are these just some words that I say aloud?
Is this just the sun breaking through the clouds?
Oh, I know it's more and i know somehow that Heaven is breaking through
And it's you, it's you, It's you, it's you, it's you

(I am a blind man trying to find the way)
I'm looking for
(I am a blind man trying to find the way)
Heaven is breaking, heaven is breaking
(I am a blind man trying to find the way)
Heaven is breaking through

Heaven is breaking, heaven is breaking
(I am a blind man trying to find the way)
Heaven is breaking through
Oh, heaven is breaking , heaven is breaking
(I am a blind man trying to find the way)

Heaven is breaking through

Heaven is breaking, heaven is breaking
(I am a blind man trying to find the way)
Heaven is breaking through
And it's you, it's you, it's you, it's you, yeah
It's you, it's you, it's you, you

I am a blind man trying to find the way
