

Cautionary Tale

Dylan LeBlanc

I feel I'm flyin' blind when I know that my mind won't believe me
Now must you be sad when my heart and my head still deceive me
Don't offer of help that you know that I won't be needin'
Cause I do it to myself, like I never get tired of bleedin' Can I trust you now
Not to pull me out
Of this Cautionary Tale that you know that I won't readin'
Cautionary Tale that you know that I won't be readin' Make another dime just to lose it in time, what's the meanin'?

They'll take what they can get for all the work can be sad, oh believe me
An' I know I've been there to follow the night I guess always
If I can make outside of this narrow mind and the hallways Can I trust you now
Not to pull me out
Of this Cautionary Tale that you know that I won't readin'
Cautionary Tale that you know that I won't be readin'
Cautionary Tale that you know that I won't be readin' Cautionary Tale that you know that I won't be readin'
Cautionary Tale that you know that I won't be readin'
Cautionary Tale to my own avail I'll be leavin'
Cautionary Tale that you know that I won't be readin' (Cautionary Tale...)

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>