In The Meantime

Port O'Brien

In the meantime, what do you do
When there's no one left but you
And you're alone
How do you feel when the one you love
Doesn't, doesn't seem real
Do you run or do you try to heal the hurt inside
But, ooh, in the meantime, ooh
I have found within myself
Everything I need to get by
'Cause I know what to do in the meantime
Continue to love you
There is no need for you to fear
For I am here, I'll be right here
All of your life
And I am willing and able to pull you
Pull you through, through the storm
That might await you on the outside
And all of your fears
And your doubts will no longer exist
Because God has granted you
Your greatest wage
And He's done the same for me
'Cuz right now, you're all I need
I have found within myself
Everything I need to get by
'Cause I know what to do in the meantime
Continue to love you
In the meantime what do you do
When there is no one left but you
And you're alone
But in the meantime
But in the meantime
But in the meantime
