

Whispers (I Hear You)

All That Remains

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

It may seem at last, days passing mean nothing
But the sun that sets cause only pain
Violence in words, like slashes, wound deeply
Love is not when you feel only pain
Her touch
Poison
Flows through my veins
No more
I denounce all your childish games
Whispers
I hear your
Poison
Flows in me
Lost inside you
I'm not free of you
Break my bonds again
Love lost
Arrogant whore
Paint strife on this canvas
Failure
I am a fool
I should have seen
Whispers
Poison
Break my bonds again (break my bonds again)
Love lost
Failure
I should have seen
I should have seen
Whispers
I hear your
Poison
Flows in me
Lost inside you
I'm not free of you
Break my bonds again
No more
Lies

No more
Lies No more
Lies
No more
No more lies It may seem at last, days passing mean nothing
But the suns that set cause only pain
Violence in words, like slashes, wound deeply
Love is not when you feel only pain No more regrets
Face my fear alone
You made me
This I
Break these bonds again Whispers
I hear your
Poison
Flows in me
Lost inside you
I'm not free of you
Break my bonds again Lost inside you
I'm not free of you
Break my bonds again
