Blocking the Sun

The Send

The city remembers me and I'm still alone
The skyline reminds me that I don't have a homeYou've been there patiently
You've been thereTrust is a river moving, breaking
You move right through me and I am waking
You have shown me truth through trustThe buildings are casting shadows and blocking the sun
This city is stretched for miles and I feel so small
The city remembers me and I'm still alone
The clouds all surround me turning my heart into stoneYou've been there patiently
You've been thereTrust is a river moving, breaking
You move right through me and I am waking
You have shown me truth
You have shown me truth
You have shown me truth through trustSo You know everything about me
And still You love me as I am?
I can't change everything around me
But You can make me wholeSo You know everything about me
(These buildings, this city)
And still You love me as I am?
(It's killing me too quickly)I can't change everything around me
(You've been there patiently)
But You can make me whole
(Writing a different story)You've been there patiently
You've been thereTrust is a river moving, breaking
You move right through me and I am waking
You have shown me truth
You have shown me truth
You have shown me truth through trust

Songwriters
Aaron Sprinkle;Joseph KisselburghPublished by RIVER OAKS MUSIC COMPANY;STONEBROOK MUSIC COMPANY

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/