Screamer

Drill

When all the pages turn to black
There is nothing left for me or you
And in the blanket of the sky
Oh you, you take me home againAnd the sun is setting on your eyes
Touching me, I don't know
Oh, help meI will wait for you
Sinking in this place
I will follow you
Don't forget, forget my nameThe world a perfect shade of red
Tomorrow maybe I'll forget, I'm blue
And when you someday soon return
I'll set a match to every word from youPicture painted petals here instead
Crushing me
Shadows slowly crawl across the bed
Raping me
