Beat the Rain

Amanda Rheaume

Pressure's on the rise, tension starts to show
Always asking why, keep pushing things aside
Behind the mirrors and the smoke
We're all playing roles
Can't keep buying time
Drive into the night

[Chorus]
Face it, you can't out run the storm
Take it, a rose always comes with thorns
You're stronger than you know
So let the cold winds blow your fears away
There's no use in trying
To beat the rain.

It's okay to feel
No need to pretend
Backing winds will reveal
Scars take time to heal
When the hiding ends
The fog begins to clear
A stronger tree will always bend
Broken hearts will mend

[Chorus] x2
