Showdown

Boy Kill Boy

So you finally figured that I could work you out
This time I remember we began to doubt
You said the wrong thing
I did the wrong thingSo, so, so much of the time I don't know where you are
I'm starting to believe this won't go very far
This time
Mistake is mineI can see them looking over now
I can hear them talking once too muchIs this all that we have to show for the seven years
'Cause we've tried and we might survive for the others wishes
Is this all we have to show for the seven years
'Cause we tried and we might survive for the others wishes
It's my showdownMaybe there's some other fella that you never know
Maybe he's some other one who'll never let you go
I said the wrong thing
I did the wrong thingLike a fool I never listened, I just put you down
Such a shame some other stranger's gonna get you now
This time
Mistake is mineAnd I can see them looking over now
I can hear them talking once too muchIs this all that we have to show for the seven years
'Cause we've tried and we might survive for the others wishes
Is this all we have to show for the seven years
'Cause we tried and we might survive for the others wishes
It's my showdownAll the ages, changes all hazyIs this all that we have to show for the seven years
'Cause we've tried and we might survive for the others wishes
Is this all we have to show for the seven years
'Cause we've tried and we might survive for the others wishes
It's my showdown, this is my showdown
