

Is Your Soul for Sale?

Babylon Zoo

All those simple songs we sang
And the Christmas we spent yesterday,
When we danced the night away.

All my make-up it ran,
And caused our love to fade away,
We fade away,
We fade away,
We fade away,
We fade away.

Oh London town is burning
And the mice and men are running
But nothing, oh nothing can tear us apart.

London town is burning
and the New York lights are laughing,
But nothing oh nothing can tear us apart. Is your soul for sale
Is your soul for sale All those simple songs we sang,
Are the same songs we sang yesterday.

When we danced the night away,
All my make-up it ran,
And caused our love to fade away,
We fade away,
We fade away,
We fade away,

We fade away. Is your soul for sale
Is your soul for sale Painters paint to spite us
Love isn't love

When lies divide us
london town is burning
And the men and mice are running
But nothing, oh nothing can tear us apart London town is burning
And the New York lights are laughing,
But nothing oh Nothing can tear us apart London town is burning
And the men and mice are running
But nothing oh nothing can tear us apart
London town is burning
And the New York lights are laughing
but nothing oh nothing can tear us apart
