

Intensity In Ten Cities

Embrace The End

I'm not the one that you want, I'll only let you down
And I'm pretty sure that you've caught on
And you can say that, oh, I'm just feeling sorry for myI think it's every time I walk into a room
A silence so sudden that I seem to hear it
Contact saying that you are the rain on their paradeAnd how long could you hang on to a word?
Tell me, how long could you hang on to a word?I'm not the one that you want, I'll only let you down
And I'm pretty sure that you've caught on
And you can say that, oh, I'm just feeling sorry for myselfOr maybe it's all eyes on him, in love with ego and intention
The eyes that are just begging me for more
This is gone and I can see it, your head is full of words
Full of words that don't mean anythingAnd how long could you hang on to a word?
Tell me, how long could you hang on to a word?I'm not the one that you want, I'll always let you down
And I'm pretty sure that you've caught on
And you can say that, oh, I'm just feeling sorry for myselfI'm not the one that you want, I'll always let you down
And I'm pretty sure that you've caught on
And you can say that, oh, I'm just feeling sorry for myself
