

San Sebastian (Revisited)

Sonata Arctica

I could see my life
Short film passing my eyes
I tried to look away from her
As always I just tried Sweetness in her eyes
Gone through one million miles
How could I turn my back on her
The sweetest thing alive? I was eager, day time dreamer
Waiting time when I'd come alive Sun of San Sebastian
Eighteen years young today
She's all I ever dreamed
But now my skies are turning gray It was good, I got to know her well
Because it made me see
That the sun of San Sebastian
Is just too hot for me Look what I have done
To my San Sebastian
I wasted all my childhood dreams
By staring at the sun Back in time with a dream of mine
I try to find my way back to life
Burning fever, night time screamer
Waiting time when I'd come alive Sun of San Sebastian
Oh, why I cannot stay
She's all I ever dreamed
But now my skies are turning gray It was good, I got to know her well
Because it made me see
That the sun of San Sebastian
Is just too hot for me Every single day
For the rest of my way
I live without my love, my God
I have to stay in shade When I'm old and gray
I remember that day
When she came, that perfect dame
And she blew me away I was eager, day time dreamer
Waiting time when I'd come alive Oh, was it good, I got to know her well
Although it made me see
That the sun of San Sebastian
Is way too hot for me, now? Oh, now I live my life in shades
And I am married to the moon
And the sun of San Sebastian

Is warming someone new

Songwriters

Toni Kristian KakkoPublished by

RANKA KUSTANNUS OY Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>