

The Isomers - Bleed Away [Live]

The Isomers

When you stand at the precipice
You can never be prepared
Cause a feather can tip you off
When youâ€™re on the knife edge

By words I once said I
By words I once said I

Writing down memories
With red dyed ink
I hid my heart in a bottle and set it out at sea
Watching it now drift away

I bleed away o I
I bleed away o I

Now Iâ€™m torn at the seams
I lost a part of me
A wound through a bleeding heart

A bleeding heart ooh oh
A bleeding heart ooh oh

Now am alone in paradise
Cause there's no you
How can perfect be so perfectly empty

Can you see my heart now x4

Between truth and a lie
All I see is you
Youâ€™re my partner and my goal
