

When the Lights Go Down

Prince

Another Friday night
Another tired line
Baby, you sure look good
Hey, baby, what's your sign? How many ask for your number
Before they even know your name?
How many out there tired
Of playing this silly old time game? Hey, and when the lights go down
And it's just you two
It's when you and your lover, yeah
Do what you just wanna do That's when you feel the heat
Hotter than July
That's when you and your baby, baby, baby
When your baby get a ride
Yeah, when your baby get a ride How can you tell him no
When he loves you so?
Buy you anything
Anything you want His eyes all aglow
He'll know you're good to go
Duh, dun, duh, dun, duh, dun
In front of a restaurant, yeah Girl, you'd better know
Really, until you do it couple of times in a row
It's just the same, it's just a game
Go back to do whatever, sleep outside your door When the lights go down, yeah
And it's just you too
That's when you hear the sounds
Of what true lovers do, yeah And when you feel the heat, yo
Hotter than July
That's when you and your baby
When you and your baby get a ride
Yeah, hey, and when your baby get a ride now Then when your baby get a ride That's when your baby get a ride now
That's when your baby get a ride
Get a ride
