Life Without You

Monica Hill Trejo

Life without you, Lord it be void
And life without you, I'd have no joy
My life without you, I've been there before
And I could never go that round no more

Cause I was broken, I was down
And I could never figure out
What's my purpose, what I'm living for
I turned in circles, searched around
And hung my head in shame and down
I never want to feel that pain no more

And Life without you, Lord it be void
And life without you, I'd have no joy
My life without you, I've been there before
And I could never go that round no more

I was running down a lonely road
With chains and bondage on my soul
Not letting go of things I can't control
Emotions ruling every thought
And careless actions, I was was loss
I never want to feel that pain no more

And Life without you, Lord it be void
And life without you, I'd have no joy
My life without you, I've been there before
And I could never go that round no more

Now my life with you, you fill my voids
Now my life with you, you bring me joy
Now my life with you, I'm better than before
And every day I love you more and more
I love you more and more
