My Compensation

Laurie Anderson

My eyes snap open and I get up I say
This must be my lucky dayJump up - get out - get on my wayEvery slobbery frog and every mangy dog
That crosses my path reminds meYou're my precious jewel and you're my precious one
My compensation.I used to live in a big house
All I ever thought about was getting out
When I met you there was something about youEvery slobbery frog and every mangy dog
That crosses my path reminds me
I love your brain. I love your brain.
I love your brain.
