

Scars

Forgotten Tomb

Remembrances - Once more Im there
Living in the past
Faded pictures of yesterday
My best and worst memories
Will be forever hereAnother night - Bleak fading lights
Im growing old with themBurning grief consumates me
Im falling to dustAnother day - Is turning grey Tonight I burn my picturesWhen I come home from these useless days
And I dream of past joys
Then I fall again into loneliness
And my blood streams in remembranceWhen I cry into darkness
And my scars release blood
Sometimes you would have wanted to die
To let me the last good memories of youA desert inside
Cold blue dust is falling on my eyes
Im flying away
Dreaming of those bitter days!
Now I watch these opened wounds
For every cut i burn in another fear
Both we were painful scars, drops of blood falling in an endless sea of sadness.
