Electric Land

Bad Company

The neon lights go flashing by
Electric land is in my eyes
The other world is on the move
And everybody's got something to proveThe taxi driver delivers the news
Somebody out there has blown a fuse
We're passing the scene a man is dead
A thirty-eight blew away his headA jolt of lightning sets me back a pace
Feel like a visitor from outer space
Please excuse me if I don't quite understand
I'm just a stranger in Electric LandIf you be willing to have a good time
You live for the moment the moment is fine
You're up in your room the lights are low
Before you know it's time for the showA jolt of lightning sets me back a pace
Feel like a visitor from outer space
Please excuse me if I don't quite understand
I'm a stranger in Electric LandElectric Land I see you
Electric Land [Incomprehensible]
