

Chasing Shadows at Midnight

Pillar

Next time I try to cross your mind
Remind me to look both ways
So I don't get hit by your lies
You lacerate me with all of these memories
And now I wear these scars out on my sleeve These broken hearts are left with scars
Because of your lies
And all this time, it feels like I'm
Chasing shadows at midnight The days fade, the stars come out at night
And when the sun goes down
I know exactly what I'll find
Some things in this life will never change
We both have apologies we need to exchange These broken hearts are left with scars
Because of your lies
And all this time, it feels like I'm
Chasing shadows at midnight These broken hearts are left with scars
Because of your lies
And all this time, it feels like I'm
Chasing shadows at midnight How could I let myself fall into your lies?
I only trusted you with all of my life
Now I am stuck here, I'm trapped under ice
The only way out is for me not to ask why These broken hearts are left with scars
Because of your lies
And all this time, it feels like I'm
Chasing shadows at midnight These broken hearts are left with scars
Because of your lies
And all this time, it feels like I'm
Chasing shadows at midnight
Chasing shadows at midnight
