

Clever Meals

Tegan and Sara

They aren't desperate for love and affection
No they're desperate for you
And as you sit out there all sly and sure
I wonder,
Does anyone think as strong as you do? I'm quite sure we'll find one another
In a place that's better than this, a time filled with us
And we'll send up our shooting stars and comets
And we'll make our little gestures, yes, we'll make our little comments
This song is my anthem and it makes up my ideals
And who I am has benefited from all my cleverly planned meals
All my cleverly planned meals I'm stripped and vital and I see rules that almost fit
So, if I voice my opinion will you stay and sit
And as I stand here screaming in despair
I say yes this is my life and yes you should care
This song is my anthem and it makes up my ideals
And who I am has benefited from all my cleverly planned meals
All my cleverly planned meals
Hardly happy at all
And I'm ready to take the fall
'Cause we pay for the stupid things we've done where I come from
Can you sit through this?
Or is it too deep?
Will you ever use common sense?
It comes pretty cheap
So, if I speak more clearly, if I make more sense
Will you shut your mouth?
You won't come across so dense
And so, close your eyes
Free your mind
You're free to fly
Close your eyes
And then I free my mind
I'm free to fly
I said, close your eyes
And then you free your mind
You're free to fly
I said, close your eyes
And then you free your mind
You're free,
You're free to fly
She said, close your eyes
They said, free your mind
You're free to fly
She said, close your eyes
Free your mind
You're free to fly
Close your eyes
I will free your mind
You're free to fly
This song is my anthem and it makes up my ideals
And who I am has benefited from all my cleverly planned meals

All my cleverly planned meals

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>