

Tonight

The O.C. Supertones

I can feel the old earth shake tonight
Mother Earth feels labor aches tonight
I can feel the old world passin'
I can hear the whole world crashing down tonight And if I died here tonight
I know my soul is with You
I'm sure about the promises You've made Surely then I will be judged tonight
Surely I'm a little scared tonight
Surely now the sheep and goats
Are split upon the threshing floor tonight Lord, You are my only good, I will hold to You
Should the fires of hell sear and singe me
Lord, You are my protector
I will hold to the fold of your robe
Should the devil himself come to claim me
