

Lady In The Lake

Elysian Fields

Used to go skinny dipping
Trapping love in a lake
Waiting
Slowly breaking sun with a rake
Now the pool in your heart is frozen
And I never did learn how to skate
But it doesn't matter anyway
I'm on the wrong side of the water
Oh won't you listen to the lady in the lake
We've drifted swiftly
Path through sails and the breakers
With buried treasure
There was nothing to take
And now the pool in your mouth is frozen
And I never did learn how to skate
But it doesn't matter anyway
I'm on the wrong side of the water
Oh won't you listen to the lady in the lake
No it doesn't matter anyway
I'm on the wrong side of the water
She's frozen lovers who left her
And at first warmth came the ice
And the hoary frost of heaven hath gendered us
And the water's eye's hid with a stone
Look into the deep
Come to me
No it doesn't matter anyway
I'm on the wrong side of the water
Fish out the lady in the lake
