

The Abomination

Art in Manila

When I was a girl
I witnessed an accident
A man struck by an automobile
He fell through the atmosphereLike a rag doll with magical powers
Or a spaceship in a meteor shower
We're all on board [Incomprehensible]
When we land it'll be betterBut the abomination's on my right
And the left side's just trying to keep upYou sent me my illness but that's what I call it
Like a stick for your nest
The red bird brought it with a wink and a smileI have no choice but to dream of a dark country road
That leads me away from this great pain"Oh, is there more?" asked the woman
Struck by lightning on the kitchen floor
While she prays to the LordThe abomination's on my right
And the left side's just trying to keep upThe abomination's on my right
And the left side's just trying to keep upThe abomination's on my right
And the left side's just trying to keep up
(We want to keep up, we want to keep up)The abomination's on my right
And the left side's just trying to keep up
(We want to keep up, we want to keep up)

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlrics.com/>