

The Orchard

Ra Ra Riot

we both had doubts
we both had doubts
i found myself
while i was away
all your life
now i understand
so many hours
and no company but you imagine things through cold eyes asleep then what have i seen this for we both know about...all my life you were important
and your father too
wandering the orchard through budding dormant eyes on a lamp lit plain you imagine things why does he speak to me to you, i know, i only stare without my life is dull
and my body aches
then what have i seen this for
