

Our Velocity

The Kestrels

I'm not a man, I'm a machine
Chisel me down until I am clean
I buy books I never read
And then I'll tell you some more about me

Beneath the concrete there's a sound
A muffled cry below the ground
There is a poison in the air
A mix of chemicals and fear

manners are just hunches
I'm not sure what they mean
You're asking for commitment
When I'm somewhere inbetween

Never never try to gauge temperature
When you tend to travel at such speed
It's our velocity
Is it cold where you are this time of the year?
You didn't leave a scar

A stream of numbers hit a screen
And you're expected to know what they mean
Throughout the conflict, I was serene
I can't outrun the sadness I've seen

Are you willing to resist
The people you've never met?
The devil's wheel revolves
But it needs to be reset

Never never try to gauge temperature
When you tend to travel at such speed

It's our velocity
Please tell me is it cold where you are this time of the year?
You didn't leave a scar

I've got no-one to call in the middle of the night anymore

I'm just alone with these thoughts

I've got no-one to call in the middle of the night anymore

I'm just alone with my thoughts

I watched a film to change my feelings

Strong enough to bear a burden

If everyone became this sensitive

I wouldn't have to be so sensitive

If everyone became so sensitive

Perhaps I wouldn't be so sensitive

Love is a lie, which means I've been lied to

Love is a lie, which means I've been lying too

Love is a lie, which means I've been lied to

Love is a lie

I've got no-one to call in the middle of the night anymore

I'm just alone with these thoughts

I've got no-one to call in the middle of the night anymore

I'm just alone with my thoughts

Never never try to guage temperature

When you tend to travel at such speed

It's our velocity
