

Emu - For My Dear

GACKT

The joy from my heart at our sudden meeting says
'Maybe it'll be over before I know it...' those forebodings scare me
And then I gazed into your eyes
Without understanding anything

They've not forever changing so how many phantoms like memories and dreams, could you like fly way
And now I gazed into your eyes
Without changing anything

If I stretch out my hand, the smile I reach is fleeting
If I close my eyes, I want to hold
Your vanishing body once more in my wons
Because I can't forget that time, that place where we met...

Dancing in the freeze, your body
Was being enveloped in light

I was only watching you
I was forever gazing into your eyes
Even now I watch only you
Without changing anything

If I stretch out my hand, the smile I reach is pained
If I close my eyes, I want to hold
Your vanishing body once more in my dreams
Because I can't forget that time, that place when we met

Because I can't forget...
